SAFETY ATTITUDE

At work, some employees neglect safety rules because they:

- are in a hurry
- figure accidents always happen to others
- are tired, careless, complacent, or ignorant
- Every time employees engage in unsafe acts, they are taking a gamble.

The next time you are about to break a safety rule, stop and think about what could happen to you, your co-workers, or your family.

Imagine the pain, the inconvenience, and the lost time and money that could result.

SAFETY ATTITUDE

Accidents:

- Sometimes you might hesitate to report an accident because it might ruin an accident-free rating, or lose a safety prize for the crew.
- But the costs of not reporting an accident can be very severe.
- An unreported problem today might result in a fatal accident tomorrow.
- Failing to report a hazard is the same as setting a trap for an unsuspecting person to walk into.

SAFETY ATTITUDE

Near hits (Close calls)

- Again, there sometimes is reluctance to report near hits (close calls) because of embarrassment, or fear of getting into trouble.

- It is very important to do so, because you might save the next person from serious injury or death.

- In fact, you frequently learn more from close calls than you do from injury accidents.

SAFETY ATTITUDE

Unsafe conditions

- Someone has to speak up about job hazards so that something can be done about them.

- You have a right and an obligation to report problems such as contact with chemicals, hazardous atmospheres and unsafe equipment.

- This even includes reporting the unsafe actions of others - such as co-workers who are working carelessly.

SAFETY ATTITUDE

Injuries

- Minor injuries have a way of turning into major ones.

- There have been cases of small cuts and punctures, which have become so badly infected that amputation was required.

- Be sure to report to the Medical station/medical personnel for all injuries.

- Multiple small injuries may be an indication of a bigger safety problem.

PetroSA

SAFETY ATTITUDE CHECKLIST

NEVER –

- ignore or neglect safety rules

- get complacent about your work.

- assume accidents only happen to others.

- take chances with the life and health of yourself or your co-workers.

Safety is the responsibility of all personnel, firstly to the individual concerned and then to all his / her fellow employees.

OFF THE JOB SAFETY TOPIC

Year-end spirit / functions / Parties:

- Tis the season for celebration.
- While these events are intended to be jovial affairs, they often cause litigation and office gossip.
- Regardless of whether these functions take place outside of regular business hours, they are considered to be within the scope of employment.
- Sexual harassment is likely the most significant risk that you may encounter at a holiday party.
- Recreational functions always involve the possibility of injury, especially when alcohol is involved.
- Slips and falls, coffee burns, broken chairs, and accidents are all-too-common occurrences at holiday parties.

BEST QUOTES TO POSITIVE ATTITUDE

- Whether a glass is half-full or half-empty, depends on the attitude of the person looking at it.

- There is a better way for everything. Find it.

- A positive attitude is not a destination. It is a way of life.

- The difference between a successful person and others is not a lack of knowledge, but rather a lack of will.

*Time decides...
who you meet in life,
the heart decides...
who you want in your life,
but behavior decides...
